Year 5 Beast Creator

Year 5's topic is currently all about Living things and their habitats, titled 'Beast Creator'. In class for the last 2-3 weeks, we have been looking after some caterpillars, well we haven't had to do much really. They have been growing fast, here are some images of the caterpillars, the first two images are 2 weeks apart, the other two are only a few days apart. We are hoping to release these Painted Lady butterflies into the wild by the end of term. Year 5

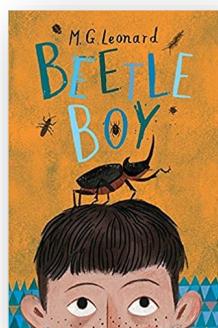

As part of their topic on 'Beast Creator', Year 5 went on a visit to Chester Zoo. They learnt about the different animals and their habitats. They also visited the butterfly house and saw the different stages of a butterfly's life cycle.

Year 5 Book Corner

A book from our book corner, Beetle Boy, has been the inspiration for our recent narrative about a young girl or boy and a mysterious mini beast.

Here is a snippet of Emily's story opening from Mr White's class.

'In a tropical garden, the sun was waking up, showering the woodland with its light. The tethered hammock was swinging gently, pushed by the breeze. The beautiful flowers surrounded it, the trees generously gave the hammock shade. The branches of the thick, oak tree swayed creating shadows of all shapes and kinds. The evergreen grass formed a path to walk through the magical place. Above the woodland, sky magically cleared all the clouds away and was the perfect shade of blue to match the garden. The fascinating and bizarre plants danced as the wind blew them, a wild fox passed by as it was making its way home. The early sunrise shone more brightly than ever. Then a branch of the tree hit the earth, suddenly the fox jumped and ran to the shadows.'
